

Roanoke Regional Housing network
A standing committee of the Council of Community Services

“We serve as a network of housing advocates that assists the public, private, and non-profit sectors in providing safe, accessible, and affordable housing through education and communication in the Roanoke Valley.”

The Roanoke Regional Housing Network strives to:

- Provide educational services, including symposia and seminars on housing issues
- Provide regional think-tank on housing issues challenging our communities
- Stay current on federal, state, and local laws affecting housing in our communities
- Develop a public policy platform and related program initiatives around housing issues
- Develop a regional housing sustainability plan

Our Membership Includes:

- Local governments
- Financial institutions
- Housing Interest groups
- State agencies
- Educational institutions
- Builder associations
- Realtor associations
- Legal interest groups
- Community organizations

Benefits of Membership Include:

- Superb networking opportunities
- Sharing and leveraging housing resources
- Formulating long-term housing policy for our communities
- Designing and producing widely acclaimed housing symposia
